

Join the Sufi Music Heritage Project: Volunteer Opportunity

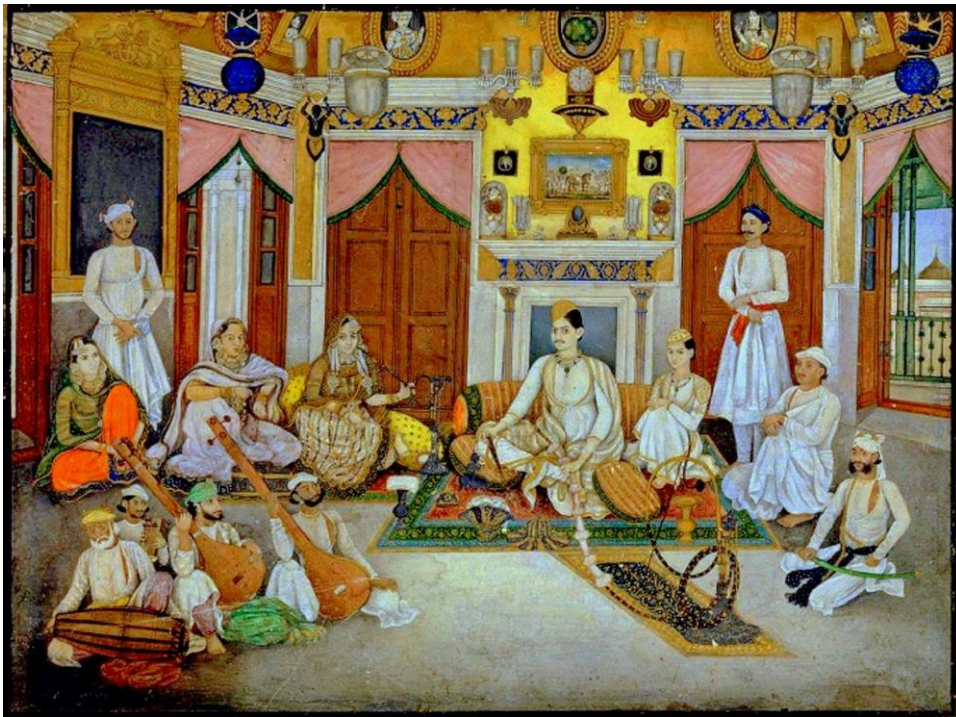

Are you passionate about preserving cultural heritage and promoting the rich tapestry of Sufi music? Here's your chance to be a part of something extraordinary! The Sufi Music Heritage Project is calling for volunteers who are eager to contribute their skills and enthusiasm to help shape and program this exciting initiative.

About the Project:

Bradford's rich and diverse cultural heritage of Bradford is set to take centre stage with the launch of the Sufi Music Heritage project, generously funded by the National Lottery Grants for Heritage. This initiative is poised to showcase the profound impact of Sufi heritage and Qawwali on the multicultural tapestry of the city, fostering inclusivity and community engagement.

The project's primary objective is to empower women from South Asian communities, providing them with a platform to lead and shape their own festival program. Serving as curators, performers, and festival organizers, these women will play a pivotal role in promoting the unique cultural heritage embedded in Sufi traditions.

In addition to celebrating the Sufi heritage, the project aims to reach new audiences by delivering an inclusive programme throughout 2024. And a Sufi heritage inspired festival in 2025.
